Caption the data

We are not entirely familiar with Flux's preferred captioning style. We understand that this model likes full descriptive sentences so we went with that. Below are some examples of the images with their captions. We chose LLaMA v3 inspired by this paper: https://arxiv.org/html/2406.08478v1
The system prompt used was basic and could likely benefit from further refinement.

A vintage comic book cover of Wonderman. On the cover, there are three main characters: Wonderman in a green costume with a large 'W' on his chest, a woman in a yellow and black outfit, and a smaller figure in a brown costume. Wonderman and the woman appear to be in a dynamic pose, suggesting action or combat. Wonderman is holding a thin, sharp object, possibly a weapon. The woman has a confident expression and is looking towards the viewer. The background is a mix of green and yellow, with some abstract designs.

Illustration of Wonderman with a determined expression. He wears a vibrant green costume adorned with a large yellow 'W' emblem on the chest. The suit consists of a purple belt with yellow and red accents, red pants, and purple boots. The character's physique is well-defined, with broad shoulders and a toned physique. He stands with his hands on his hips, exuding confidence.

A vibrant and colorful Wonderman logo design. The logo prominently features a large letter 'W' in the center, which is boldly outlined and colored in a bright red hue. The 'W' is set against a yellow background with a speckled texture. Surrounding the 'W' is a circular green border. The entire design is placed against a white background, making the colors pop and creating a striking contrast.
