ADHESIÓN DEL REINO DE ARABIA SAUDITA

Comunicación de Arabia Saudita

El Ministerio de Comercio del Reino de Arabia Saudita ha facilitado la siguiente información sobre los acuerdos comerciales preferenciales.

I. INTRODUCCIÓN

1. El Reino de Arabia Saudita es parte en dos tipos de acuerdos comerciales preferenciales:

- a) La Zona de Libre Comercio del Consejo de Cooperación del Golfo
- b) El Acuerdo de la Liga Árabe

Estos acuerdos se describen pormenorizadamente a continuación.

II. LA ZONA DE LIBRE COMERCIO DEL CONSEJO DE COOPERACIÓN DEL GOLFO

2. El Consejo de Cooperación de los Estados Árabes del Golfo fue establecido en 1981 por los dirigentes de Arabia Saudita, Bahrein, Kuwait, Omán, Qatar y los Emiratos Árabes Unidos. En noviembre de 1982, los Gobiernos de los seis Estados Miembros del Consejo de Cooperación concluyeron el Acuerdo Económico Unificado cuyo objetivo es la creación de un mercado común del Consejo de Cooperación del Golfo. El texto del Acuerdo figura en el documento WT/ACC/SAU/6/Add.2.

3. Los Estados del Consejo de Cooperación del Golfo, como primer paso del proceso de integración, establecieron una zona de libre comercio que inició sus actividades en 1983. La zona de libre comercio tiene actualmente más de 13 años de existencia y abarca lo esencial de los intercambios comerciales entre los Estados miembros. Las importaciones de todos los productos agrícolas, animales e industriales y de recursos naturales que haga un Estado miembro procedentes de los demás Estados miembros del Consejo de Cooperación del Golfo están exentas de impuestos.

4. Se permite la entrada libre de impuestos a los productos de origen nacional. Se considera que un producto es nacional cuando el valor añadido en un Estado miembro del Consejo de Cooperación es por lo menos del 40 por ciento y si un mínimo del 51 por ciento de los propietarios de la industria manufacturera son ciudadanos de países del Consejo de Cooperación del Golfo.

5. En 1982 Kuwait, el único país del Consejo de Cooperación del Golfo que también era entonces Miembro del GATT, notificó a este último el Acuerdo Económico Unificado. (Desde entonces Bahrein, Qatar y los Emiratos Árabes Unidos han pasado a ser Miembros de la OMC junto con Kuwait.)

6. La zona de libre comercio del Consejo de Cooperación del Golfo es plenamente compatible con las disposiciones del artículo XXIV del GATT de 1994, puesto que responde a los criterios y condiciones de dicho artículo, en concreto las disposiciones del apartado b) de los párrafos 5 y 8.

7. Los Estados miembros del Consejo de Cooperación del Golfo quieren pasar ahora a la siguiente etapa, es decir a la creación de una unión aduanera. Se han entablado activas negociaciones para lograr el establecimiento de un arancel exterior común (AEC). Como las negociaciones están actualmente en curso es prematuro indicar la orientación que tendrá el arancel exterior común o el período requerido para que concluyan las negociaciones. Los Estados Miembros respetarán, a lo largo del proceso, las disposiciones pertinentes del artículo XXIV del GATT de 1994.

III. EL ACUERDO DE LA LIGA ÁRABE

8. Hace ya mucho tiempo que los Estados Miembros de la Liga Árabe tratan de reforzar su integración económica. En 1981, 20 Estados miembros de la Liga Árabe, incluida la Arabia Saudita, firmaron el Acuerdo para facilitar y desarrollar el comercio entre los países árabes. El objetivo del Acuerdo era la integración económica árabe como paso decisivo hacia la unidad económica árabe.

9. Recientemente ha tenido lugar en este proceso un importante acontecimiento, pues el Consejo Económico y Social de la Liga Árabe ha adoptado, el 19 de febrero de 1997, la decisión de crear una zona árabe de libre comercio. El Consejo también ha aprobado un programa ejecutivo con un plan y un calendario para la formación de la Zona Árabe de Libre Comercio. La aplicación del plan se efectuará a lo largo de un período de 10 años que comenzará el 1º de enero de 1998. A partir del 1º de enero del 2007, la zona de libre comercio estará plenamente en actividad. En el transcurso de esos 10 años, los países miembros reducirán sus respectivos aranceles por etapas anuales, es decir que cada año reducirán una décima parte de sus respectivos aranceles. El Acuerdo cumple las condiciones y los criterios establecidos en el artículo XXIV del GATT de 1994.

10. El Acuerdo para facilitar y desarrollar el comercio entre los países árabes es un primer paso en la creación de la zona de libre comercio y prevé la exención de derechos para las siguientes categorías de productos que se importen en un Estado miembro procedentes de los demás Estados miembros:

- a) productos agrícolas y animales en su forma primaria o tras un proceso de elaboración que los haga adecuados para el consumo;
- b) materias primas minerales y no minerales en su forma primaria o tras un proceso de elaboración;
- c) productos semimanufacturados incluidos en las listas convenidas en el Consejo Económico de la Liga Árabe;
- d) mercancías producidas por empresas conjuntas árabes;
- e) determinadas mercancías manufacturadas cuya exención de derechos haya convenido el Consejo Económico.

11. Se adjunta la lista¹ detallada de las mercancías en régimen de exención de derechos. Todos los productos incluidos en las categorías y listas mencionadas en el párrafo 10 están totalmente exentos de derechos, es decir que se les aplica un régimen de franquicia.

12. El artículo III del Acuerdo para facilitar y desarrollar el comercio entre los países árabes prevé que, de un modo general, los países miembros establezcan acuerdos bilaterales para intercambiar concesiones más amplias que las otorgadas con arreglo a las listas convenidas de productos que se mencionan en el anterior párrafo 11. De conformidad con esta disposición, el Reino de Arabia Saudita tiene acuerdos bilaterales con Egipto, Iraq, Jordania, Líbano, Marruecos, Siria y Túnez. Estos acuerdos bilaterales prevén la exención total o parcial de derechos para las listas convenidas de productos. Se adjuntan las listas de productos y tipos de derechos preferenciales para cada uno de estos acuerdos.

13. El Acuerdo para facilitar y desarrollar el comercio entre los países árabes, y los acuerdos bilaterales establecidos en virtud de este Acuerdo, son acuerdos comerciales regionales comprendidos en la Cláusula de Habilitación.

14. Cabe afirmar que las preferencias existentes en la Liga Árabe, que se han descrito en los párrafos anteriores, desaparecerán finalmente cuando la actividad de la Zona Árabe de Libre Comercio sea plena. Es posible decir asimismo que no hay una vinculación institucional entre la Zona de Libre Comercio del Consejo de Cooperación del Golfo y la Zona Árabe de Libre Comercio. Cuando esta última tenga una actividad plena, el Consejo de Cooperación del Golfo habrá establecido una unión aduanera y seguirá avanzando hacia un mercado común.
